Sitting in Chancery

To the worshipful Court of Isle of Wight County, humbly complaining sheweth unto your Worship, your Orator George Robertson that some time A. D.
1790 your Orator gave to John Parker two differ-ent bonds one for £1000 the other for £19. 4. 2 Your observeth that the ~~two~~ aforesaid sums of money for which ~~you~~ he gave his bonds to the said Parker were by the said John Parker won of your Orator at different games in which your Orator conceives himself to ^{have} been defraud-ed as he was then an infant Your Orator further observeth that the aforesaid John Parker hath instituted suits in this Court on the bonds given by your Orator as aforesaid and hath recovered judgment against your Orator for the aforesaid sums of money and threatens him with execution for the same all which proceedings of the said John Parker are contrary to equity & good conscience as well ^{as} repugnant to the laws of the Country and forasmuch as your Orator is only & properly whose province is to suppress the vice of gambling ^{particularly in this} reversible in this worshipful Court to the end therefore that the said John Parker doth upon his Corporal Oath full true & perfect answer make to all & singular the allegations herein contained as fully as if again repeated and interrogated and by his answer to this your Orator Bill particularly say whether the aforesaid bonds were not taken for ~~so~~ much money won of your Orator as before recited whether he was not informed that your Orator was at the time of giving his bonds an infant as well as at the time of his loose--sing the money for which they were taken debts, or operate to the credit of the Compt. — all which matters, circumstances, and facts this Deft is ready to aver and prove as this Court shall direct — without that any other matter or thing stated in the Compt's d. bill, and not herein sufficiently answered unto, traversed, or denied, is ~~True~~ true.

— Wherefore this Deft prays leave that he may be permitted to obtain the benefit of the judgments obtained by him, and by ^{him} and Copeland Parker against the Compt, at law; — and be hence dismissed with his reasonable costs by him in this behalf most wrongfully sustained.

The answer of John Parker Deft to the bill of complaint of George Robertson Complt is

This Defendant, saving to himself the benefit and advantages of excepting to the errors and insufficiencies of the Complt's said bill of complaint, for answer thereto, - says, - That he admits that the bond, dated 1. May 1790, from the Complt to this Deft, and upon which a judgment has been rendered by the County Court of Wilts of Wight against the Complt, at the suit of this Deft, was given for securing the paym^t. of £60 which this Deft had fairly and honestly won of the Complt - indeed this Deft, without wishing to boast of his generosity, can with truth say, that he had won nearly double the sum for which the bond was given, but released the surplus beyond the £60 upon the Complt's manifesting an honest disposition of paying - That as to the infancy of the Complt this Deft is and was at the time obtaining the said bond from him totally ignorant, except so far as what this Deft was informed of by others, - and this Deft believes that he might have been told that the Complt was about the time of giving the said bond under the age of 21 years - but this Deft can assert that the Complt was not in such a state of infancy as to put it into the power of this Deft to defraud him, had this Deft been disposed thereto. - And as to the other demand for which ~~this Deft has obtained~~ the Complt asserts, in his s^d bill, that this Deft ~~has~~ has obtained a judgment against him, this Deft knows not of such a demand or judgment - but if the Complt intends or alludes to a judgment obtained by John and Copeland Parker against him, this Deft can and does positively assert that the demand, for which the last mentioned judgment was obtained, was for goods, wares, and merchandize sold and delivered, and for money advanced and paid by the s^d. John and Copeland Parker, to the Complt and to others for him and on his account. - And this Deft farther answering says that he does not recollect to have offered to assign the aforesaid demands to any person or persons, except Bennett Young and Francis Young, the younger, for less than their nominal value, - but if ^{he} had done so, ~~it~~ he conceives it would neither invalidate the
